The promotion is based on the following basic criteria:

1. Research, scientific publishing and scientific patents
2. Teaching and participating in supporting the educational process
3. Community and university service

A. Research:

This criterion is based on the following principles:

- Promotion to the rank of Associate Professor: The minimum number of papers published and accepted for publication shall be five full researches in accordance with the weights and conditions stated in Article (5) and Article (6) of these Regulations.
- Promotion to the rank of Professor: The minimum number of published and accepted research papers shall be nine full researches in accordance with the weights and conditions stipulated in Article (5) and Article (6) of these Regulations.
- Research should be distributed at least over 3 years, taking into account the timing of publication in scientific journals.

B. Publishing:

- The chapter published in the refereed research book shall be treated as the researches published in refereed scientific journals, so that not more than one chapter in the same refereed book is counted for the applicant.

1 A full research is a research whose components have been completed in terms of identifying the problem and methodology and extracting the results and requires a significant effort to be accomplished. In general, those classified by scientific journals as one of the following types: short paper, letter, comment, short communication, note or technical note and other types of short research work, are not considered full researches. In the event that the Journal has not identified the paper as a full-fledged research, the Promotion Committee shall undertake such a task.

- The diversity of the journals in which the publication is published should be considered so that the researches are published in three different periodicals for the promotion to the rank of “Associate Professor” and at least five periodicals in three different countries for the promotion of the rank of “Professor”.

C. Patents:

- The registered scientific patents shall be treated as research production, and shall be counted only once.
